

Safety Doesn't Happen by Accident

No fuel retailer wants an accident on their forecourt. And no customer wants to visit a fueling station that has potential risks or a bad reputation. It's important to make sure your fueling forecourts are safe. The Dover Fueling Solutions (DFS) Dangerous Substances and Explosive Atmospheres Regulations (DSEAR) risk assessment service is designed specifically for forecourts, letting you identify and rectify potential risks while our field technicians guide you through the entire process.

We Take Safety Seriously

Our service includes:

- Basic policies and emergency plans
- Control of Substances Hazardous to Health (COSHH) assessments
- Training and record-keeping
- Routine checks, testing and maintenance
- Contractors, appointments and control
- Tank storage, pipework, dispensing and delivery
- Spillage containment
- Vapour emission control
- Leak detection and containment

Keep Your Forecourt Safe with DSEAR

Our comprehensive DSEAR risk assessment service covers all areas of legislation, including support and advice for any areas that need improvement. As part of the service, our field technicians visit your site and guide you through the entire process, leaving you with all of the necessary documentation. A full, tailored action plan is then hosted on our secure web-portal, which you can access and update at any time.

The DFS DSEAR risk assessment service is concerned with protection against risks from fire, explosion and other similar events arising from dangerous substances used or present in the workplace. If requested, risk assessments can be tailored to best suit your business needs.

Complementing our DSEAR Risk Assessment Service, we can also produce hazardous zone drawings to identify areas of high risk on your forecourt, so you can take the necessary precautions to help prevent fires and explosions.

Included with the DFS DSEAR Service:

- ✓ Risk assessment
- ✓ Tailored action plan
- ✓ Secure web portal access
- ✓ Support and Advice
- ✓ Valid for three years
