Engage the Consumer.

Consumers spend on average 3 to 4 minutes at the dispenser when refuelling their car, mostly focusing on volume and total price of the transaction as the meter counts the litres. Those 3 to 4 minutes are a perfect opportunity to engage with your consumer. Most fuel dispensers on the market today have no ability to display any kind of digital media, meaning fuel retailers are limited to static signage and messaging that is difficult and time consuming to update.

Meet T-Media™ by Dover Fueling Solutions® (DFS) – a complete solution for integrated digital media that turns each of your fuel dispensers into a promotional powerhouse. T-Media by DFS is a powerful content management solution that gives you the ability to drive targeted promotional strategies and enhance the customer experience, right where you need it most – at the fuel dispenser.

T-Media makes it simple to upload and change the media content and promotions that the motorist sees at every stage of the fueling process. Advertisements and messages are easily deployed across your site or network, thanks to the cloud-based functionality of T-Media by DFS. Whether you want to boost shop purchases, upsell premium fuel grades or sell car washes, T-Media by DFS can enhance customer engagement and loyalty to your site while boosting per-visit sales and profit.

The Promotional Power-house.

Unlock the Power of Event-Driven Advertising.

Unlock the power of event-driven advertising with tailored messages that engage the motorist much more successfully than traditional loop media. T-Media by DFS is not only physically integrated into the fuel dispenser, but is also linked to the fuelling process itself, meaning that your media content is always in sync with the motorist's actions.

Engage the Motorist With Tailored Messages.

- Target consumers more effectively with different messaging for each nozzle on the forecourt to unlock powerful crosspromotional strategies.
- Tailor your message to the time of day with easy scheduling of content that maximises relevance and drives footfall and sales.
- Take advantage of the consumer's undevoted focus whilst refuelling with powerful promotional content to drive incremental sales and profit.

Drive Targeted Promotional Strategies.

Does what static signage or traditional loop media cannot do – delivers targeted messages to support your promotional strategies.

- Why not target your premium diesel to a diesel motorist, promote shop offers or your car wash? Simply upload content, then drag and drop onto a playlist.
- Schedule the time you want your playlist to run for maximum relevance; for example, run coffee advertising in the morning, sandwiches around lunchtime and lottery tickets in the evening.
- Deploy your playlist easily using our intuitive web user interface to one or multiple sites, and update your playlist and schedule whenever you want.
